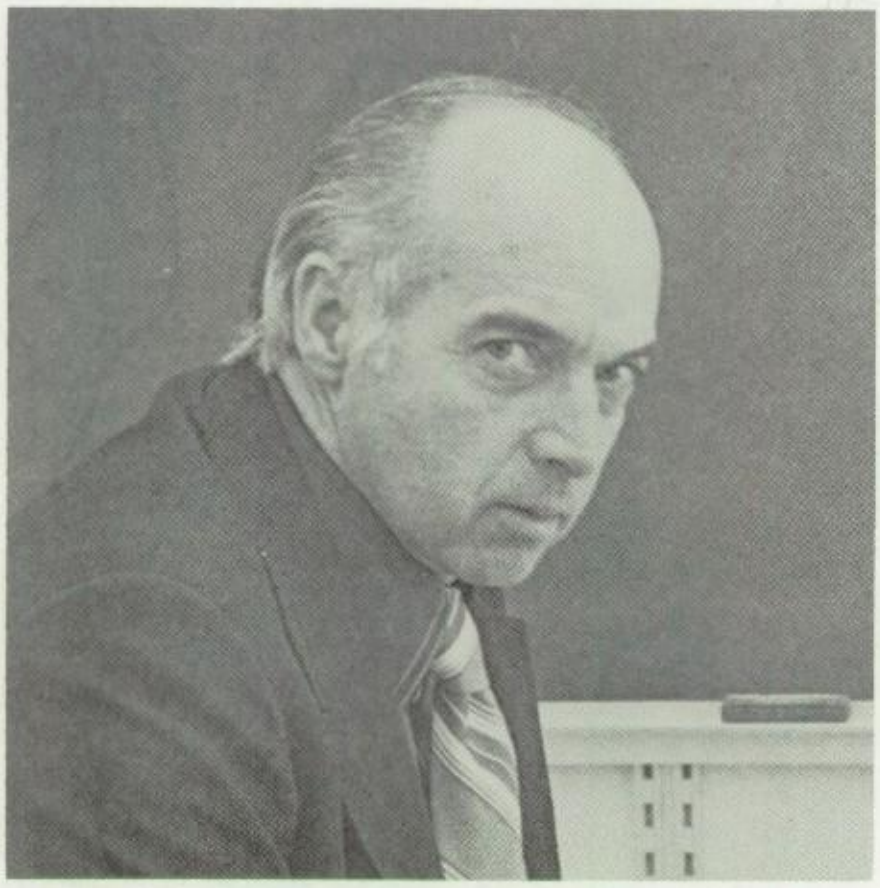
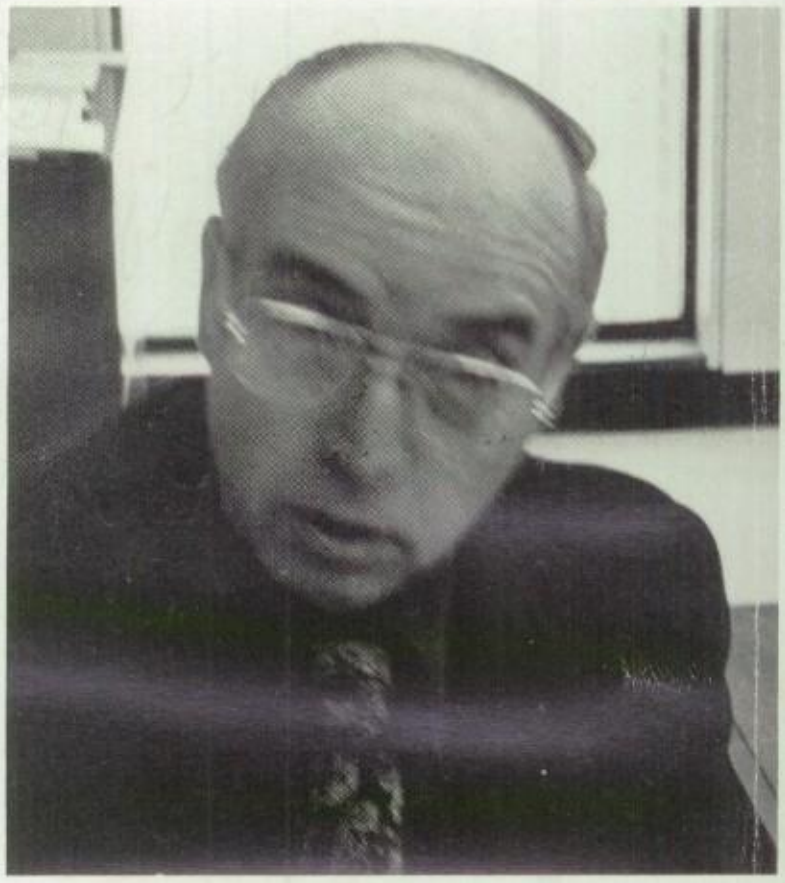
Dedication

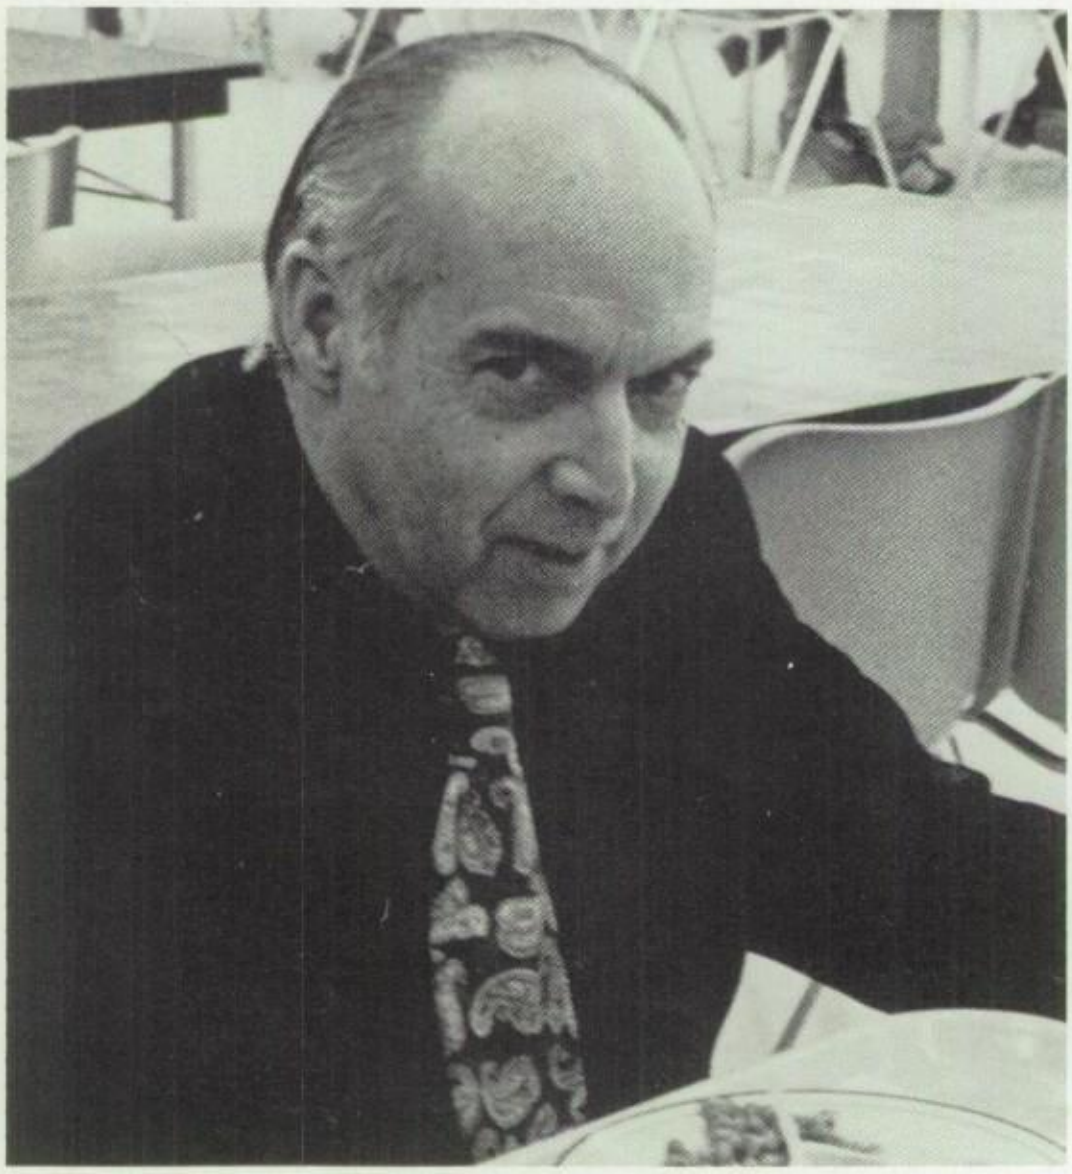
We, the Class of 1978, wish to dedicate our yearbook, filled with many memories of our years together, to a very special person, Mr. Neil Hoadley, and we hope this token of our appreciation will mean as much to him as he means to us.

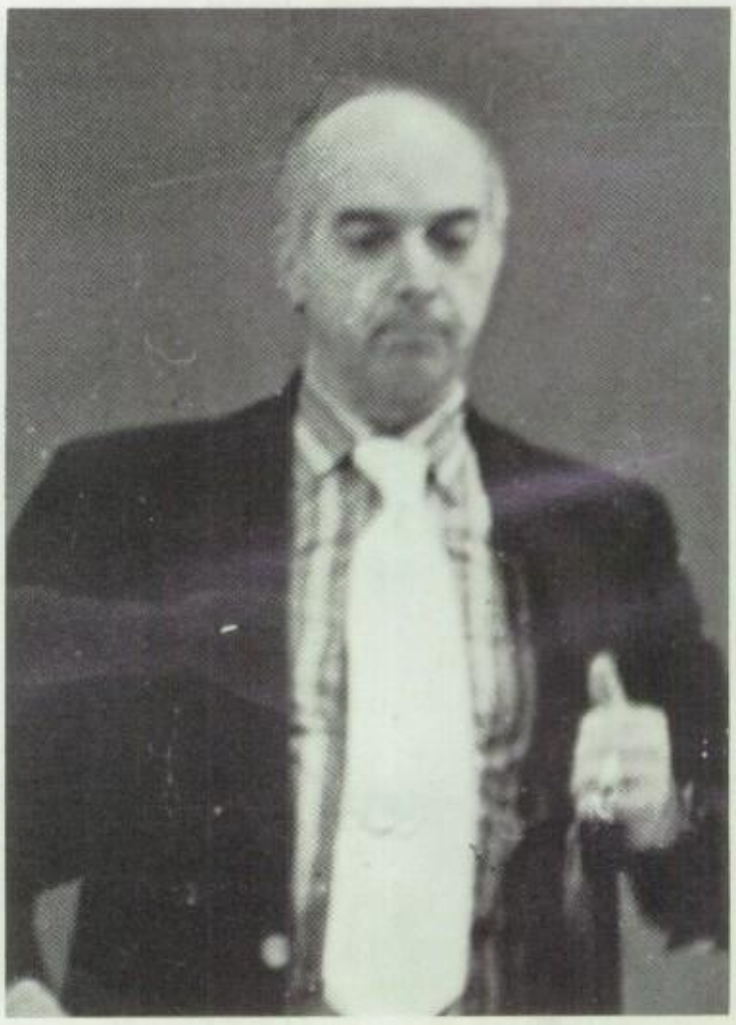
It's hard to find enough words to express all our thanks to Mr. Hoadley for all his time, support, and dedication to our class. Without his help, our class would never have accomplished all the goals we have completed.

We will cherish these years that we have all spent together. We hope that he, in his heart, will hold many fond memories of our class, the class of 1978!









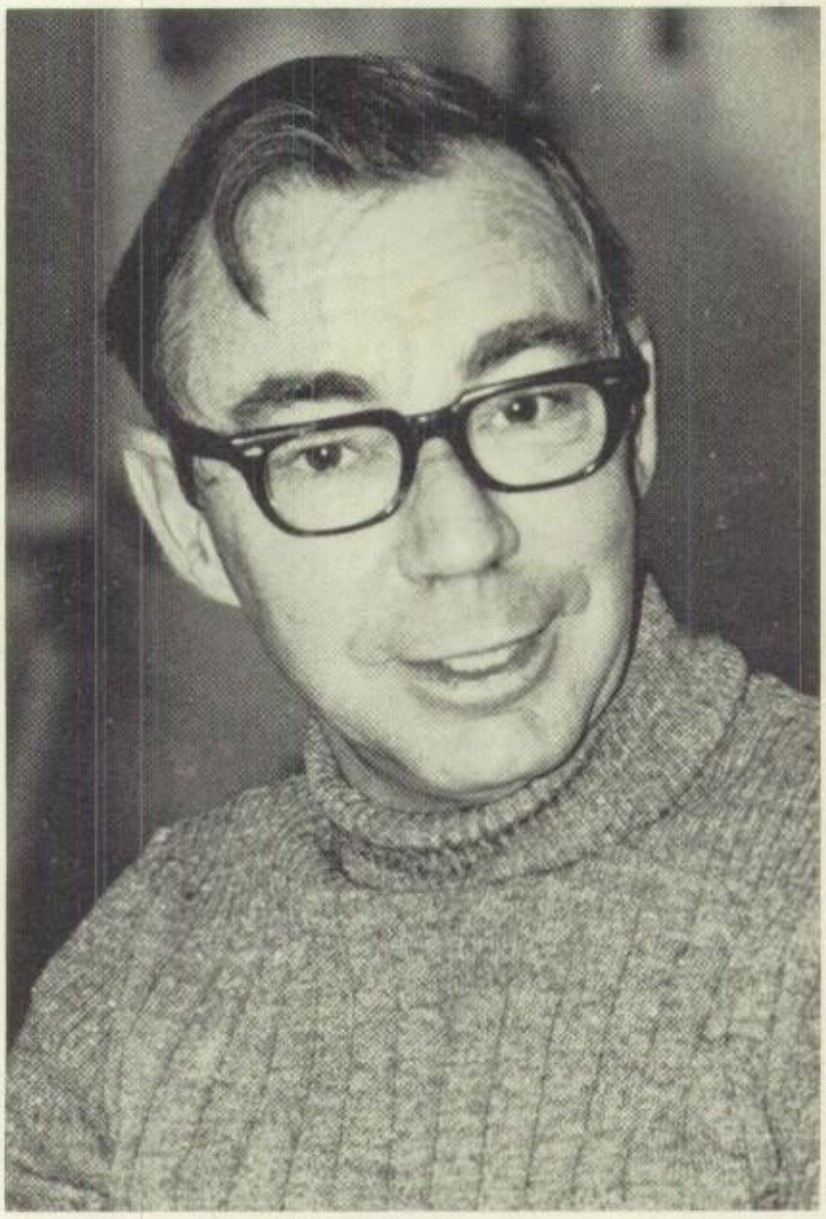
Mrs. Eleanor Ryan

A shining smile —
a helping hand —
One who could always talk for a while —
Always caring —
Forever sharing —
This is what we remember her as . . .

Mr. Richard Casavant

As we have continued on through the year, we can look back and remember all the joys Mr. Casavant brought to our lives. Some of us have more than just memories. Some of us have projects, such as gun cabinets, tables and lamps, which he helped us create. We will treasure them as symbols of him.

As for those who never had a chance to get to know him, they will remember his smiling face and friendly hello as he passed them in the halls.



Mr. Hall Addresses the Seniors

I offer congratulations to you for achieving this important milestone in your life.

I know that you have found some of the school work boring, some challenging, and some exciting as you have moved through the last twelve years. I hope you have been able to receive the essential basic skills that will enable you to pursue further study or to move into the world of work.

Another part of your development has been in citizenship, the ingredient that is most important in a democracy like America. Over the years, the strength of America has been the ability of its people to respond to crises when needed, to offer hope and charity around the world, to dare to conquer disease and space, to look critically at long established institutions, to make them better, and to look constantly for new frontiers. I hope, more than anything else, that you will become involved in civics, no matter where life leads you. Serve on school boards, on boards of selectmen, on juries, and stand up for the things you believe in. This is the legacy that is America; and unless it is nurtured, unless new citizens are willing to pick up the torch of civic service, it will dwindle away as legacies have in past civilizations.

"The vocation of every man and woman is to serve other people . . ."
(Count Leo Nikolaevich-Tolstoi.)

Good luck to you in your future endeavors.

Mr. Connolly Addresses the Seniors

The often spoken term, "Congratulations," will be heard by members of the Class of 1978 many times during your final high school days. And why not? Every senior graduating has accomplished certain requirements, including the potential to continue the learning process long after commencement exercises.

What will you do — attend college, enlist in the service, start a family, seek employment, or nothing? Each is a choice, and each will return some sort of dividend. What you have gained, or not gained, during the past four years will ultimately be best judged by you. The important thing to remember about the last four years is that you did make some decisions, good and bad, and, hopefully, learned from each decision.

Let me close with this quote. "There are three kinds of people, those who make things happen, those who watch things happen, and those who wonder what happened." Needless to say, there is a need for more of the first type.

Best wishes for happiness and satisfaction in the days and years ahead.

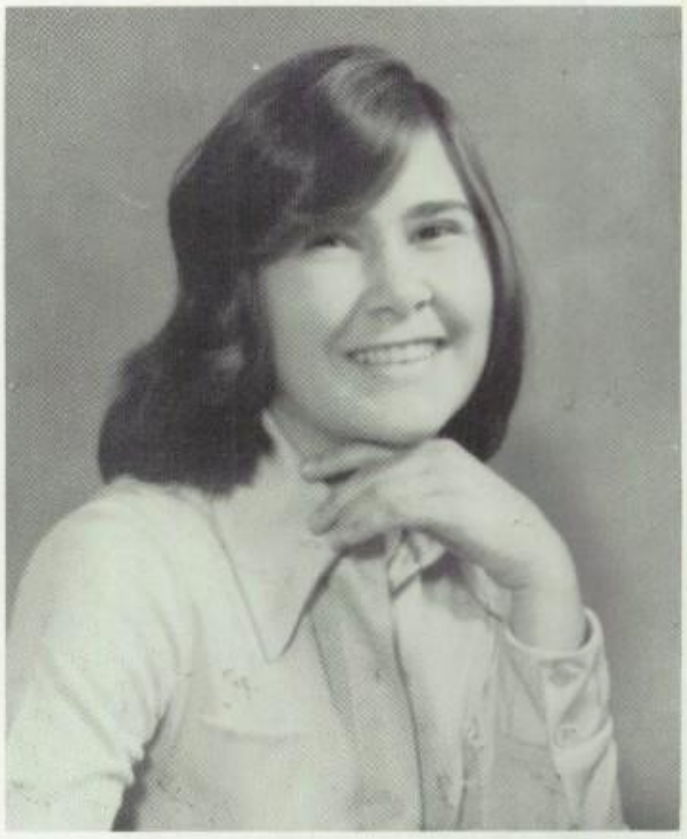
International Fellowship Program



Alice Jones lives in Cartage, Columbia. She has two brothers and one sister. When Alice came to Vermont, she was hosted by the Wendland family for two months. Then she spent two months with the Dions.

When you speak of sincere people, you can think of Alice. She is always ready with a smile or a friendly word. Unfortunately, Alice had to leave us in January to further her education in English. She is a very ambitious young lady, especially when it comes to learning the English language.

We hope Alice enjoyed being at Mt. Abe as much as we enjoyed having her here.

Our Class Song

This whole wide world is turned upside down
We've got to turn it back around
With our friends both old and new
Together we will see it through
Let's join together right now ~

Life has its problems all around
But we won't let them get us down
We'll walk along hand in hand
And spread our news throughout the land
We'll make it together-come, take a stand ~

Tonight we'll start to begin our fight
We'll try to set the whole world right
And as we go along our way
Maybe we'll see you again someday
Until then, we'll say good-bye.....

SLS

Jeanne Acker

When you think of love, sunshine, and beautiful things,
You think of friends and your heart sings;
It sings to us memories that we have shared:
A walk in the rain, the times we cried,
And those fun-filled days we threw our cares to the sky.

The lasting friendships that grow stronger each day
Because each of us is being a friend in a very special way.
Jeanne Beans, nickname, alone brings back many happy times
That will remain forever in our minds.

Our friendship with Jeanne will always be strong,
And in each of our hearts, we will hold that bond —
A bond that joins our hearts together;
A friendship that will last for ever and ever . . .

Michael Bedell

All who knew Mike knew a happy person.
Let us fear not the memories of him, but remember with great joy that we had shared a moment in his life.

His Love for nature and wildlife made his love for us more beautiful.
His ability to put his many talents to use will forever be praised in our hearts.

May we never forget that friendly smile and the happy times that went along with it.
May his willingness to give, influence us to give more of ourselves.
Let us continue his search for a world of smiling faces.

Everywhere we go he will be with us.
He will be a part of everything we do.
He may not be with us physically,
but in our hearts, he shall always remain.

Robin Prescott

I'll take 2 of these, 3 of those . . .

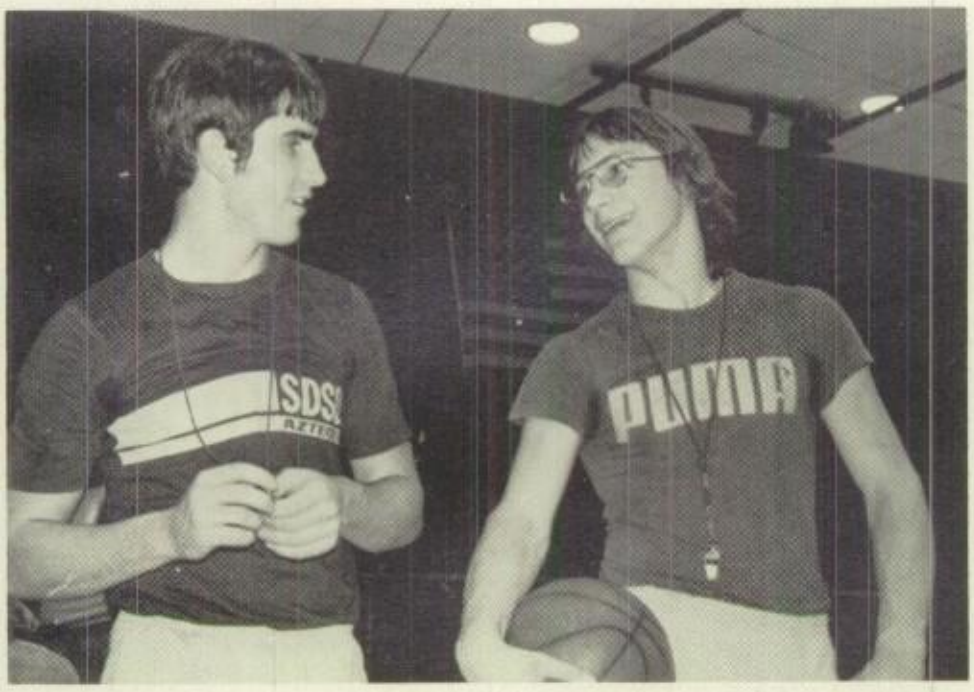
On the mountain stands a lady . . .

What's wrong with being a dish-washer?

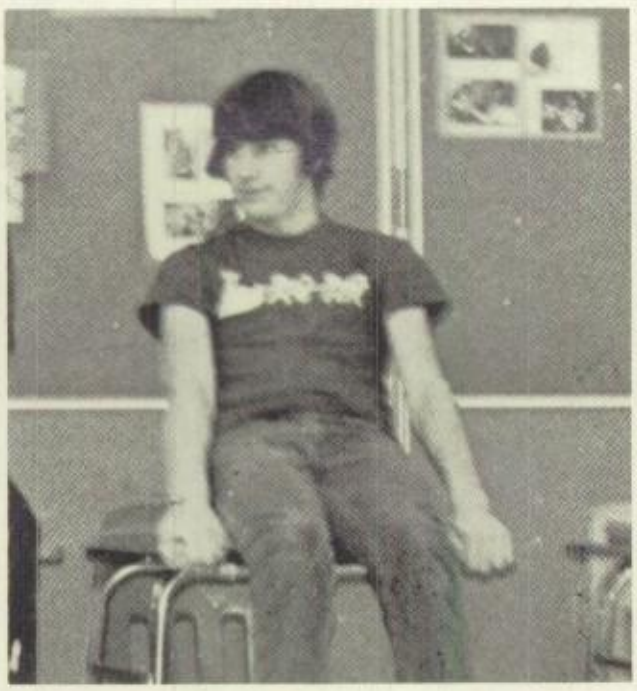
It takes two, baby!

Two to one Mr. P. won't last!

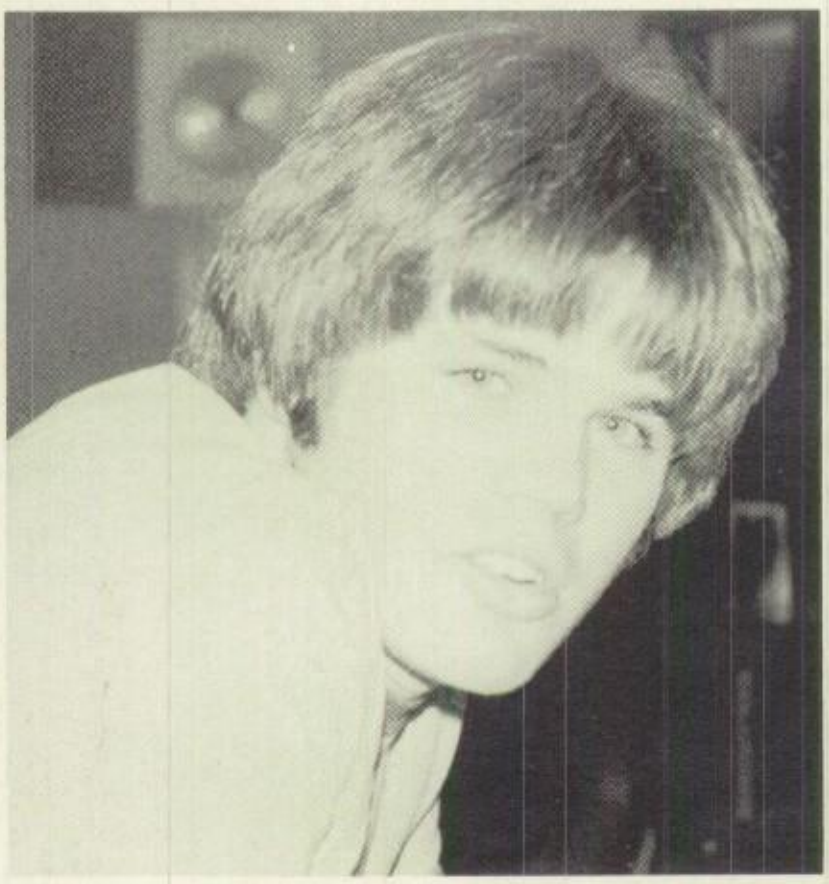
You think you've got problems!



Hey, cutie, what ya doin' after the game?



5! 4! 3! 2! 1! Blast off!



Are my eyes really that blue?

Lost my teddy again!

I've downed a lot of Wheaties in my life.

Do you mean there really is a tooth fairy?

Class Will

I, Cathy Acker, wish to leave THE OSTRICH to Mary Palmer.

I, Jeanne Acker, leave a set of 76 curl-ups and 65 push-ups to Mrs. Pellegrini and lots of luck to next year's hockey team.

Jean Adams wishes to leave all the good times at Mt. Abe to everyone.

I, Ciquita Aiken, wish to leave my sister Maletta (while at Mt. Abe) the knowledge of finding herself as I did.

I, Shari Ayers, leave all the great times I've had at Mt. Abe to my sister Shelly, in hopes that she enjoys them and has many more.

James Bachand leaves broken shocks and shaky cars to Frank Deitte — if he knows what I mean!

I, Steve Barsalou, leave to my brother Mark ten pounds of raw fish-heads and a pair of stainless steel chop sticks.

Rocky Benedict wishes to leave his ability to play baseball to his brother Randy.

Ed Bessette wishes to leave to Stanley Burritt the lathe in woodshop.

Joseph Boisvert would like to leave all those late nights having fun to anyone who can get up the next morning.

I, Denise Bourgeois, leave to Maletta Aiken my height; she needs it more than I do.

I, Sherry Boyer, leave my quietness to Carol Lasell, and I hope that she uses it.

James Brown leaves to Victor Sears all his musical talent.

Cary Bryden leaves to Lisa D. Mr. C. to have all to herself.

I, Angie Burritt, wish to leave Mr. Tighe a book: "How to Handle Teenagers Without Growing Old."

James Butler just wishes to leave.

Paul Cassarino leave the two lunch blues to Sugar Ray.

I, Amy Chaloux, wish to leave to Mr. Pellegrini the book, Jokes for All Occasions.

I, Ed Colomb, give the teachers a hand and my old board to Mr. P.

I, Robert Cook, would like to leave my brother Jeff my ability not to do homework.

I, Chris Corkins, leave the halls of Mt. Abe to anyone who dares to enter them when David Cousino, David Livingston, and Victor Cousino are in them.

I, Jody Corliss, wish to leave to my sister Monica all my bad test scores I've had throughout the years.

I, Ellen Danahy, leave to Dale Boisvert all the top lockers, hoping he'll grow up enough to reach them!

I, Starr D'Avignon, wish to leave any unfinished business to my sister Libby, hoping she will do it right.

Chris Dearborn wishes to leave the fine art of clowning and fooling around to anyone who wants to shock the world.

I, Leon DeMers, leave my wrestling abilities to Bill Lossmann, in hopes he will better his wrestling.

I, Lauren Diette, leave the balcony to all those brave souls who love to jump from heights, in hopes they will use it well.

I, Dwight, leave my bookkeeping class with Miss Cotter to Sue Jerome.

I, Julie Dion, leave my sore feet from the chewed up track to Brenda N., my blood shot eyes from the chlorine to Maureen G., and two bumpy shins from F. H. to anyone who likes the colors Black and Blue.

I, Emily Dykstra, leave Mr. Bowers my "golden voice," in hopes that he finds a freshman's body to put it in.

I, Gail Eseltine, do hereby leave my good times to Sonya Little, hoping she has a lot of good times too.

I, Cherri Evarts, wish to leave my ability to play sports to Debbie Noble and Karen Smith.

I, Lori Fagga, leave to my buddy, Mo, the ability to be sweet and quiet.

I, Laurie Fish, leave my sister Debbie the hope that she can get through her next four years at Mt. Abe spending less time in Mr. Pellegrini's office than I did in just my senior year!

I, Roger Forgues, leave my trusty razor to Wicky Pixley, hoping that he won't kill himself.

I, Cathy Fregard, leave this school to anyone who wants to come.

I, Jill Freyer, do leave to Mr. Newman a King Kong lunch pail, in hopes it will match his thermos.

I, Ken Futtere, leave my brain to whoever needs it. I don't have any use for it now.

I, Wisa Goodyear, heweby weave the abiwity to tawk wike Baba Wawa, to aww the weguwar "Saturday Night Wive" wistenews.

I, Jackie Goyette, leave all my bad luck to Jeannette, if she can handle it.

I, Larry Grace, wish to leave A.B., the Lounge and all the hunting stories to Bob Bedell.

I, Barb Haskins, leave all my absent days and detentions to be made up to Rob Bedell.

I, Butch Hier, leave to Marian Acker all of my clarinet solos, in hopes that she can play them better than I can.

I, Penny Hoag, leave to Pat Paquette all the fun rides to Vocational and my hope that Johnny Chamberlain will stay out of the snow banks.

I, Russell Hulst, wish to leave my position on the golf team to anyone who wants it.

I, Richard James, leave my ability to lose weight to my brother Kevin.

I, Vaughn Jipner, leave my innocent ability to get into trouble to any underclassman who can handle the pressure, but still play it cool.

I, Betty Kemp, wish to leave to my cousin Christine two good remaining years.

I, Kenny King, wish to leave my ability to play pool to Susie Eldridge.

I, Donna Kilbourn, leave all the fun I had skipping to my brother Perry, in hopes he does not get caught.

To Mr. Brennan, I, Roberta Kimball, leave all the headaches he gave me, in hopes that someday he realizes how hard he really was on me.

I, Nanc LaFoy, leave to Suz, Di, and Deb my ever ready sense of humor, in hopes it can get them as many friends as it has me.

I, Leo LaRose, leave my speaking ability to anybody who thinks that he can beat it.

I, Beth Lavigne, wish to leave my white gym shorts to my little butterball.

I, Susie Livingston, leave to my brother David my cheerleading skirt and bloomers.

I, David Lutton, leave Vocational Electronics, downtown Middlebury, the railroad tracks, and all the high times there to Mike George, who probably can use them.

I, Susan Manley, leave to my sister Robin the sewing machine I used, in hopes she will have better luck with it than I did.

I, Ricky Marcelle, wish to leave all my names to my brother.

I, Lisa Marchica, leave to all the people in school and those to come, all the hard times I had in order to make it this far, with the hope it'll be easier for them.

I, Sue Heeter, do hereby wish to leave the Class of '78 to Mt. Abraham U.H.S., so that I won't have to wait in line for my diploma.

Mike Heffernan leaves all complete successes to Jeff Hoag.

I, Martha Hendee, leave a scratch pad to Brian Wimett.

I, Debbie Markwell, leave the trick of getting to school without riding the bus once, to Shari Ash.

I, Marc Marsceill, leave my personal parking place to whoever owns a camera.

I, Brenda Martell, wish to leave all the fun I had during softball to Debbie Larrow, in hopes she will have as much fun.

I, Aaron Martin, leave my ability to stay out of trouble to Kevin Martin, in hopes that he will use it.

I, Colleen Neil, leave the future students at Mt. Abe the two nicest librarians anyone could find.

I, Carlene Nelson, leave to Denny Rotax, Lake Iroquois, because it's the biggest mud puddle I could find.

I, Jeff Parks, leave sneaking past Mr. Pellegrini to go downstreet to anyone who dares.

I, Beth Peabody, leave to my sister Becky and brother Jim all the good times in French class.

I, Reggie Place, leave Mrs. Bubbles Mayer to anyone who wants her.

I, Robin Prescott, leave Cranston Snord to Sarah Baker, and hope she has as much fun with him as I did.

I, Faye Preston, leave my collection of McDonald hamburger glasses to Mr. Blaise; may he drink in good health.

Lynn Prime would like to leave her first baseman's glove to next year's player and to wish her as much good luck with it as she had.

I, Mark Provancha, leave my ability to laugh at almost anything to everyone, in hopes that it will make life a little happier.

I, Shirley Provoncha, leave all my long, boring days at school and all the boring homework to all those behind me.

I, Mel P., do hereby leave to Magister Tighe the poem "Counting Kisses," along with a bottle of Grecian Formula.

I, Lori Rheaume, leave my team locker to one of my sisters, Stacy or Debbie; which ever gets it first.

I, Brenda Rockwood, would like to leave all my "happy times" and "golden Opportunities" to Teresa, in hopes she enjoys them as much as I did.

I, Bernice Root, leave all my good times to Joy and Brigette. I hope that Jeff enjoyed them too, and that Cindy has fun riding the bus.

I, Tina Sargent, leave all my good times to everyone who will appreciate them and the bad times to everyone who makes them.

I, Jeff Sawyer, leave, wishing the Class of 1978 the best of luck with their future.

I, Dawn Severson, leave the library with all its knowledge and enjoyment to my sisters and brothers, in hopes that they will enjoy it as much as I have.

I, Jerry Sherman, leave all those nights touring Middlebury last summer to Mark Barsalou, in hopes he uses them wisely.

I, Jean Smith, leave a joke book to Mr. Pellegrini, to share with Mr. Hoadley.

I, Joan Smith, leave my bottle of No-Doz to Mr. Durand, in hopes it will help someone more than it did me.

I, Ray Smith, leave my wrestling uniform to the person who thinks he is man enough to wear it.

I, Gary Spooner, leave all of the cosmic debris to anyone who can hack it.

I, Loren Steady, leave another year of ciphering to Wilberham. (Have Fun.)

I, Sally Stetson, leave my mouthguard to any field hockey player who cares enough about her teeth to look stupid.

I, Carol Stewart, wish to leave lots of good times in school to Tami Senna.

I, Peter Stone, leave my track spikes to whoever needs zoom.

I, Holly Sumner, leave my ability to stay out of trouble to Bobby Miller.

I, Ellen Svrcek, leave the Mt. Echo . . . THANK GOD!

I, Kitten Wells, leave my absences to anyone who wants to make 'em up.

I, Dean Wendel, leave my times on the mountain to Micheal George, in hopes that he will never get into that much trouble again.

I, Tiana Wendland, want to leave the water buckets back stage to Bernie Dagenais, in hopes that he has some good rubber boots and a big mop.

I, Wendy Wimett, hereby leave my pool shark abilities to my brother Brian, in hopes that he plays better than I did.

I, Sara Wood, give my abilities to talk to everyone about anything, to someone who needs them.

I, Sandy Zwickel, leave to my sister Gwen the ability not to let her schooling interfere with her education.

I, Gail Butterfield, leave to all students at Mt. Abe the good times I've had and hope they have many more than I did.

I, Jim Parent, wish to leave all the troubles of knowing too much and not enough to anyone who can cope with them.

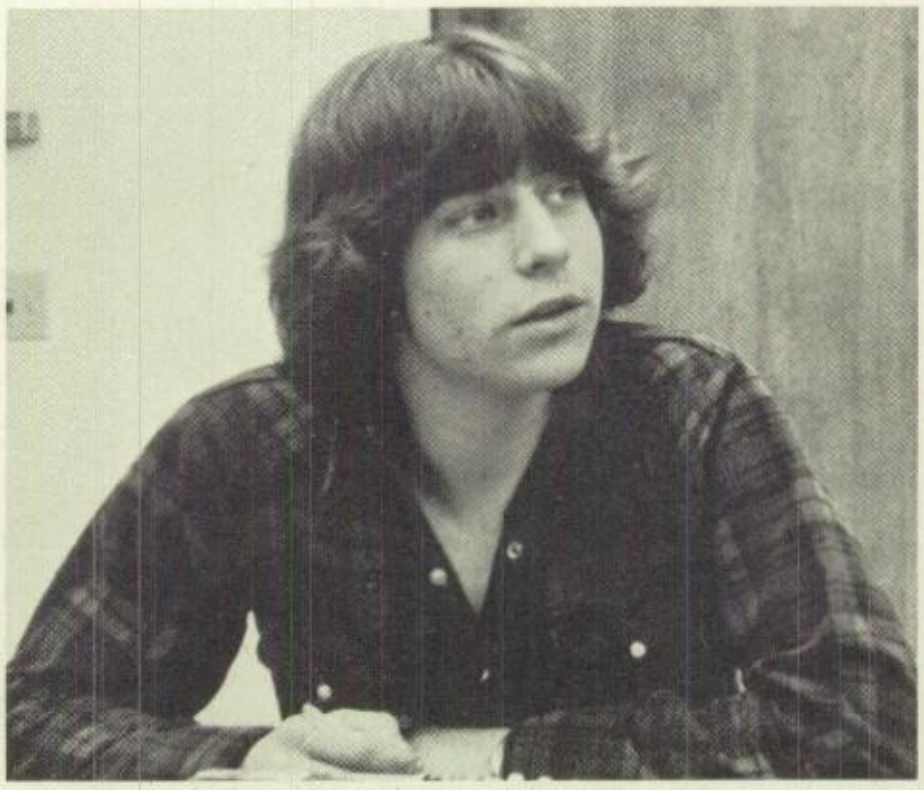
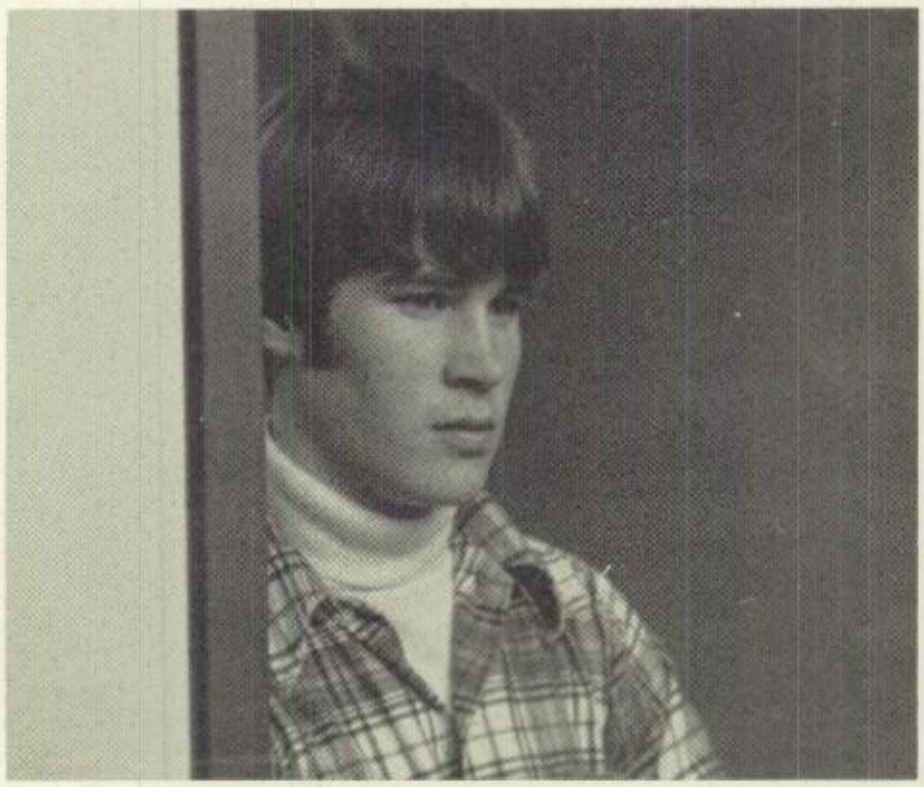
"Romeo, Roemo, wherefore art thou!"



"How do I love thee? Let me count the ways."

"Now watch; this will explode."

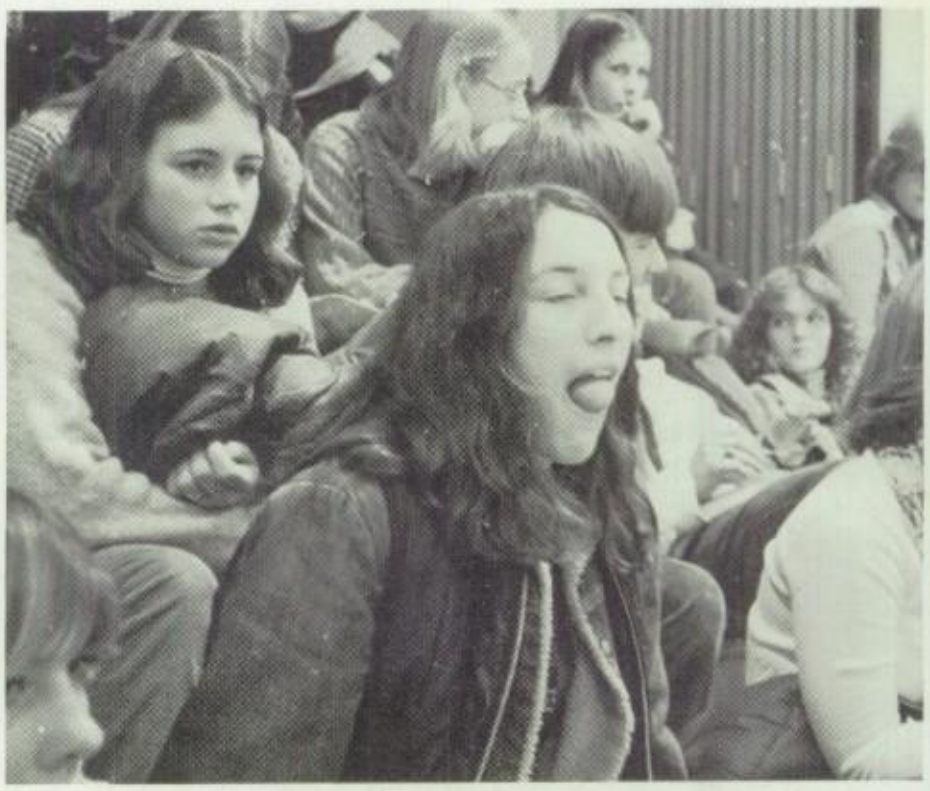


"Dream on, Chuck!"

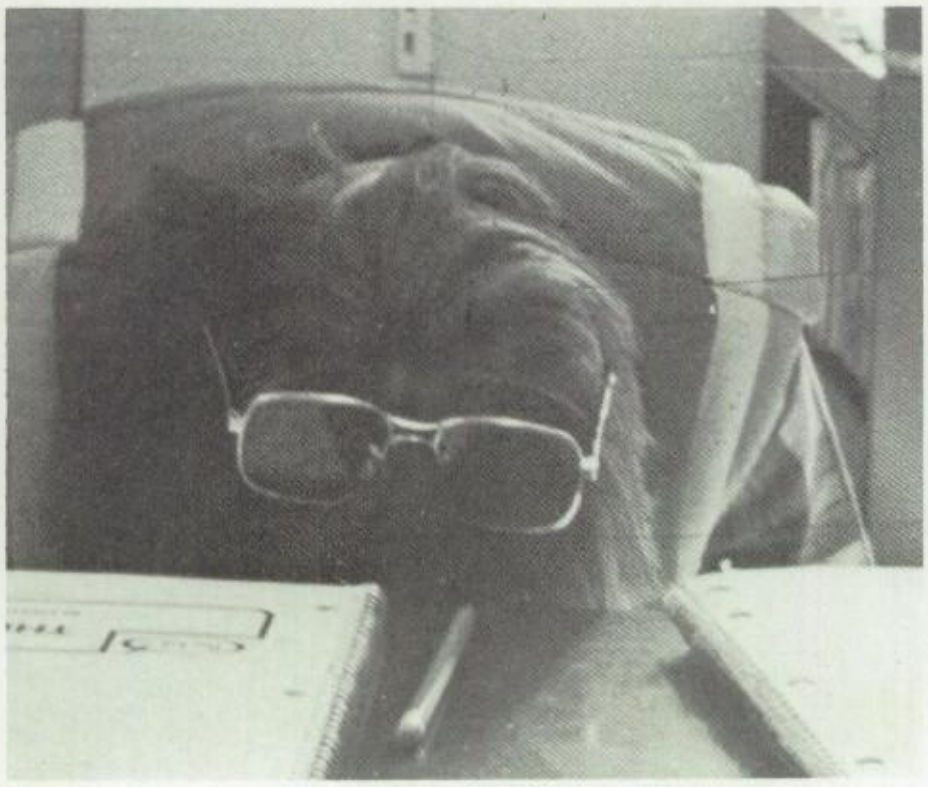
"Lori, we aren't listening!"

"Come over here and say that!"

"I can see myself."



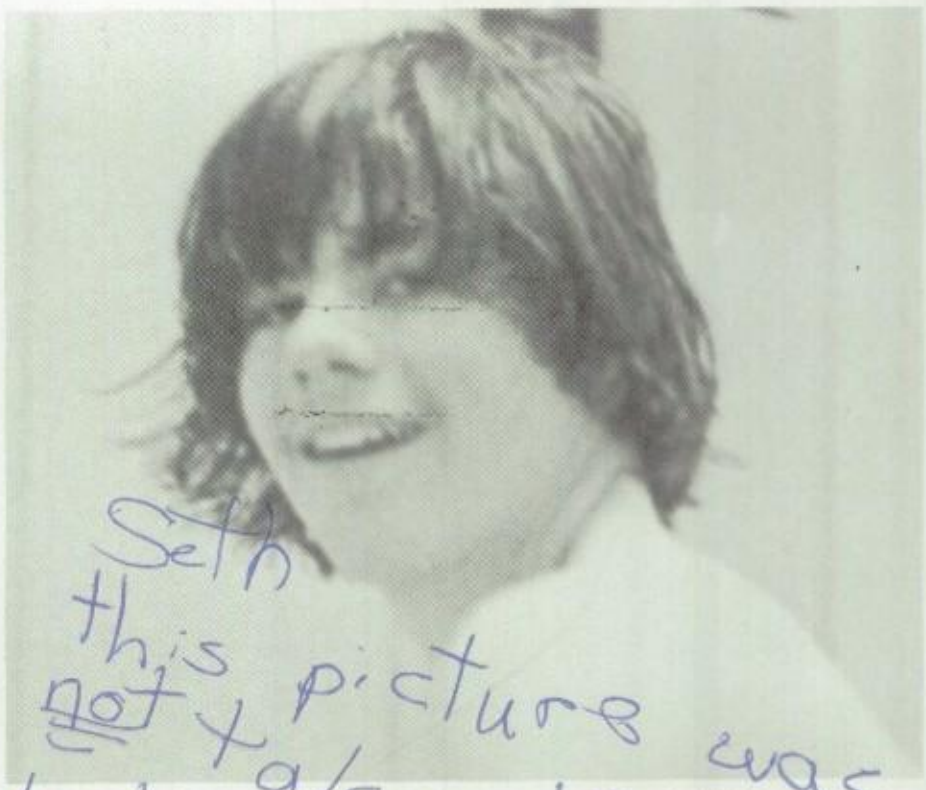
"Where'd the basketball go?"



"I'm so embarrassed!"

"Make sure to get my best side!"

Mt. Abe's Student Lounge.



"Put your money where your mouth is!"

Knee deep and sinking fast!

Only 200 more and we'll be in the Guinness World Book of Records!

Close encounters of the What kind?

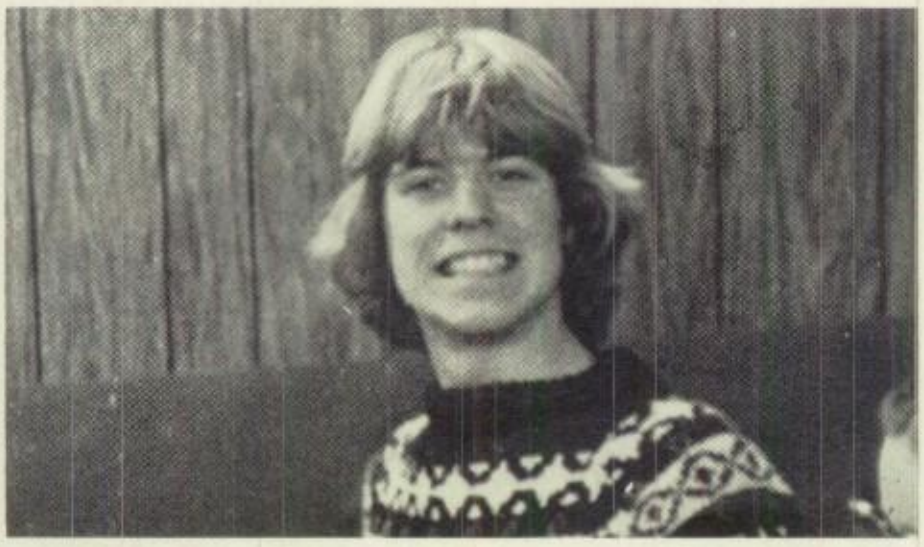
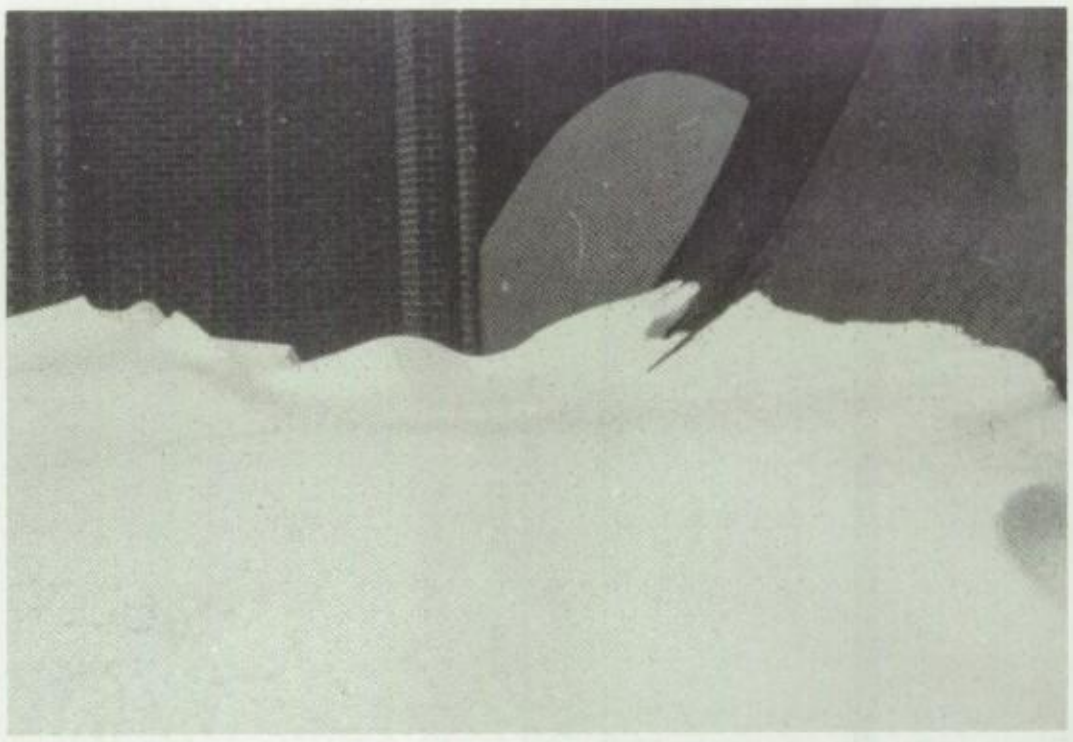
Call me tinsel teeth once more!



Farrah Fawcett, the second.

Watch out for the quiet ones!

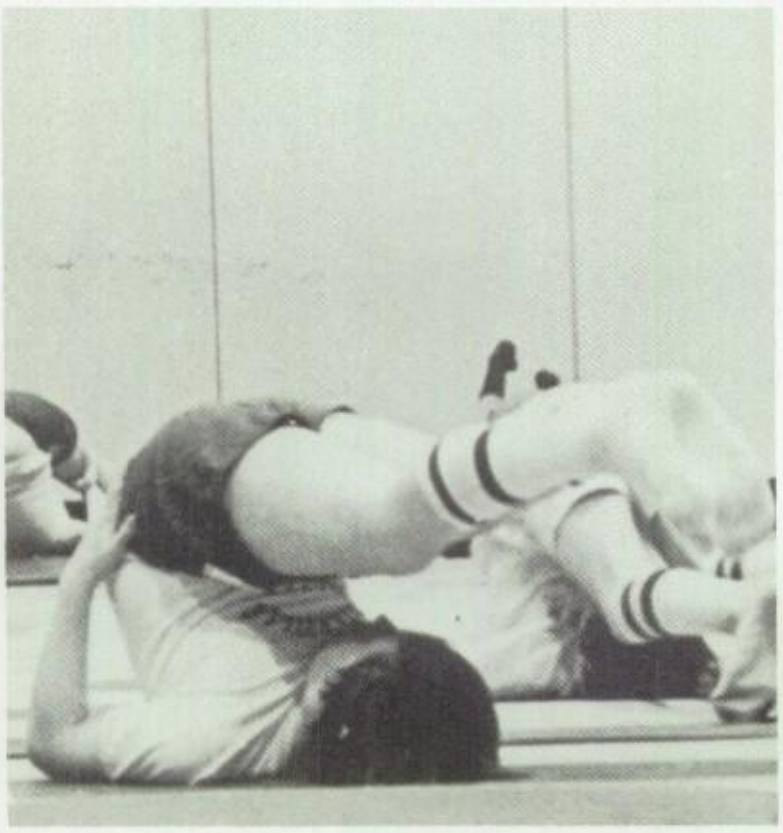
Kill it! Kill it!



All right, who dumped the boxes of dehydrated potatoes in the pool?

Since I can't grow a beard . . .

First you make a knot, and then you bring this end up, then . . .



What a funny way to sit!

"Way down up on the dirty test tubes."

The bear went over the mountain.

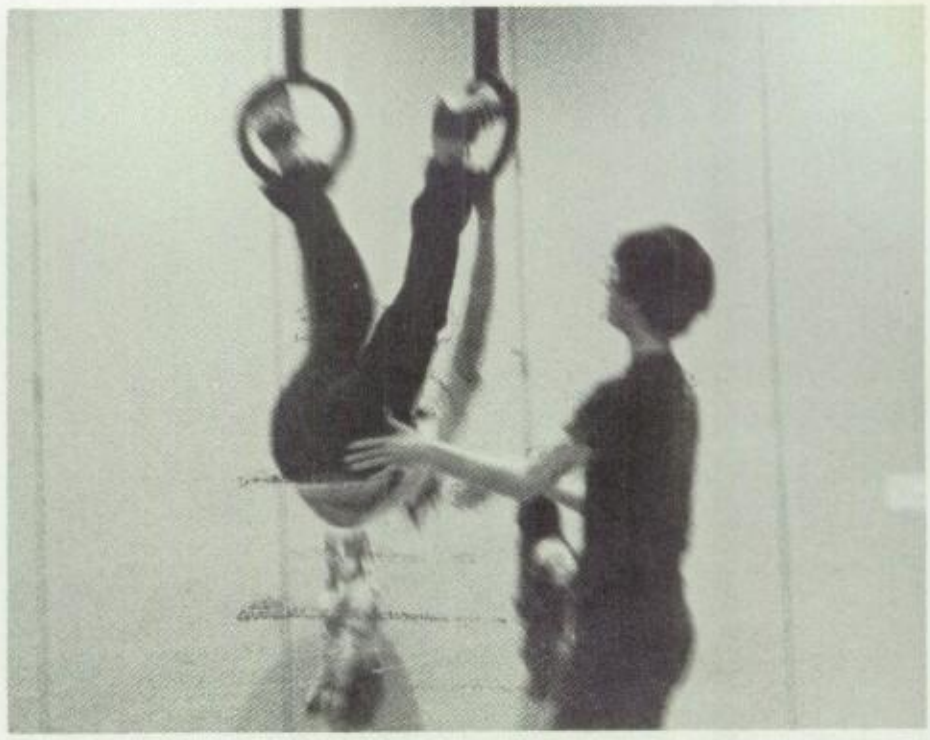
Who does he think he's fooling?

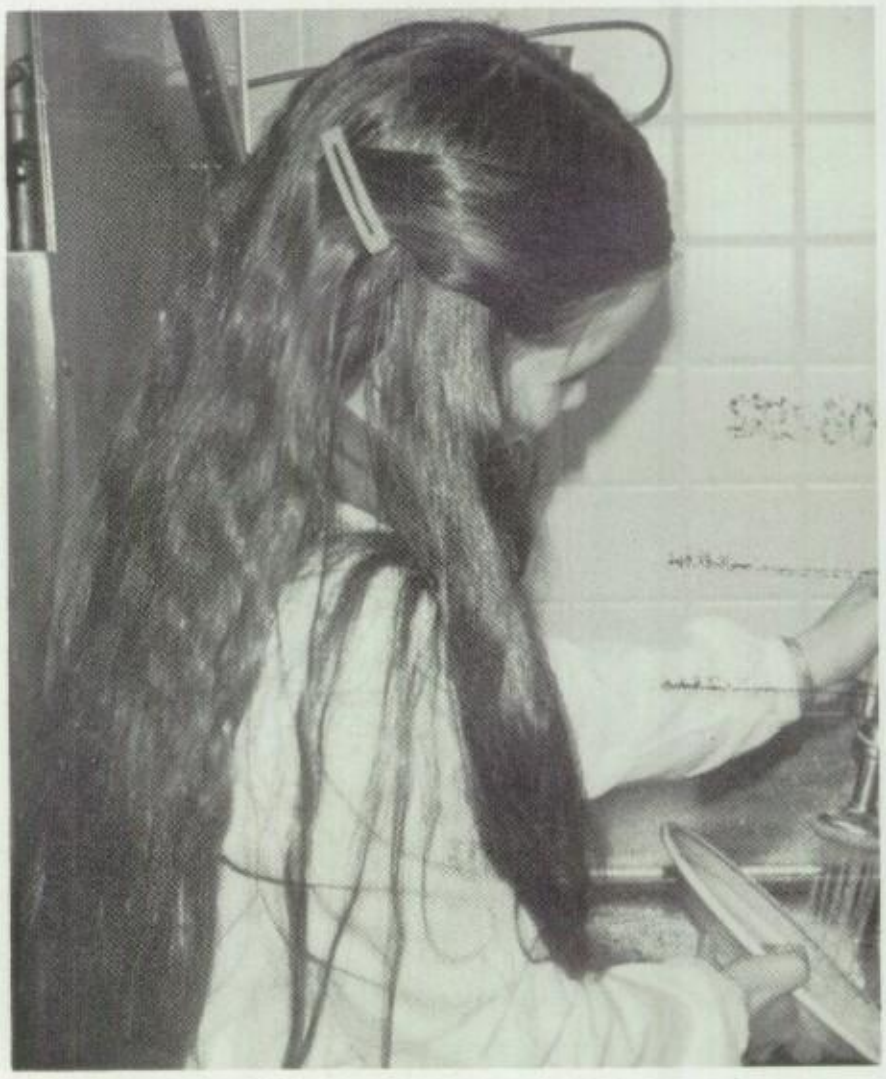


Now we'll try the bird's nest.

Where? Where?

Everything ready for the making of the Atom?

Jeepers, creepers, where'd you get those peepers?



I can see myself!

Do you bite?

Ten ball in the corner pocket? No way!

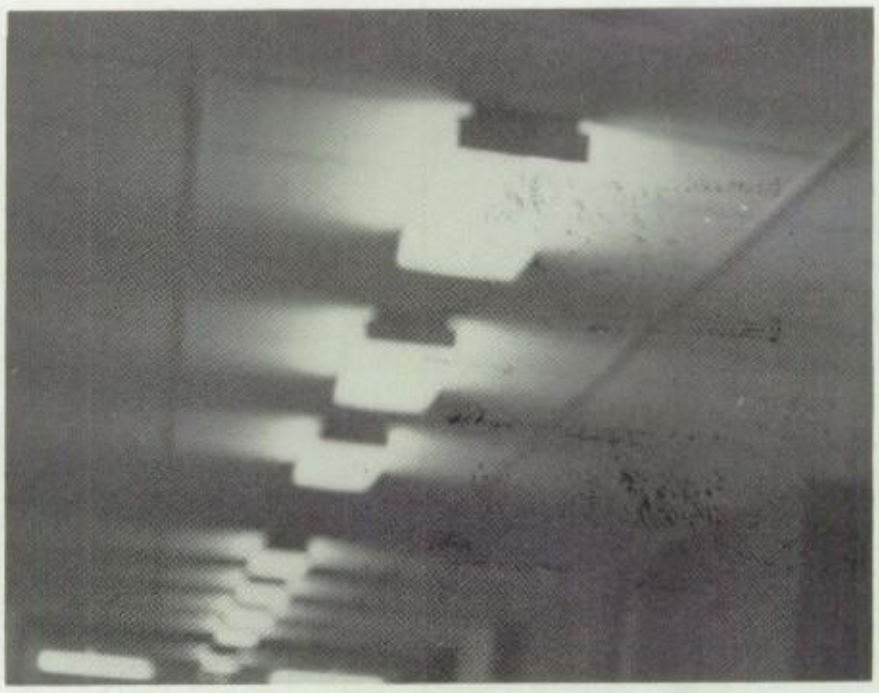
Once upon a time . . .

If we can't run them out, we'll stink them out!

I like my hair long and silky!

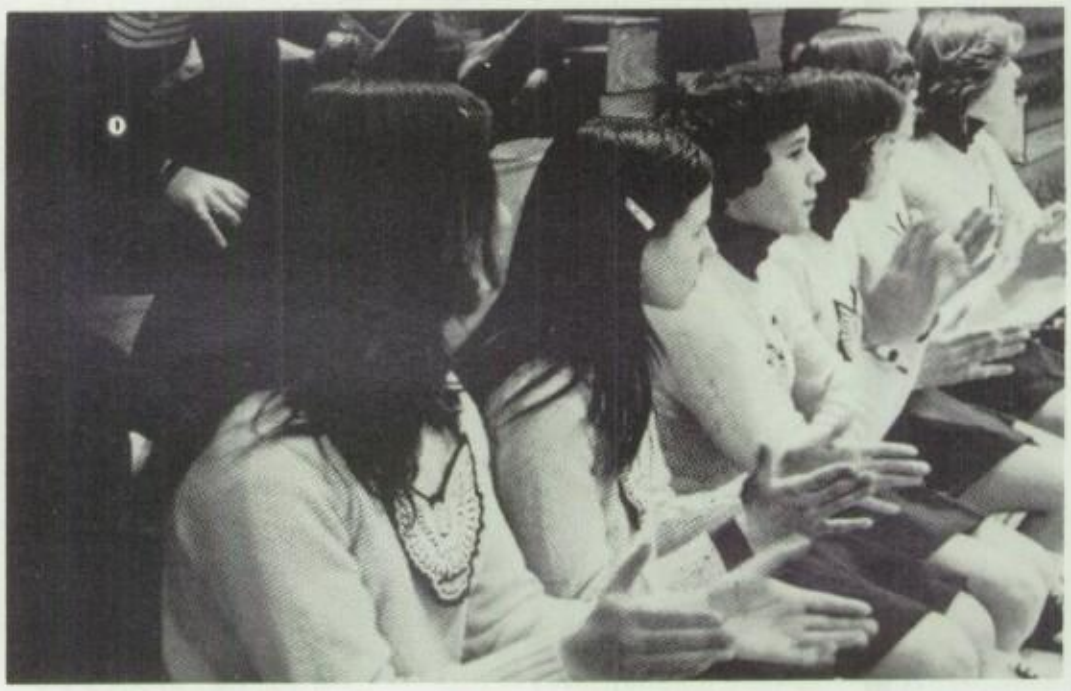
Vermont Snow Bunnies!

Sometimes when we touch . . .

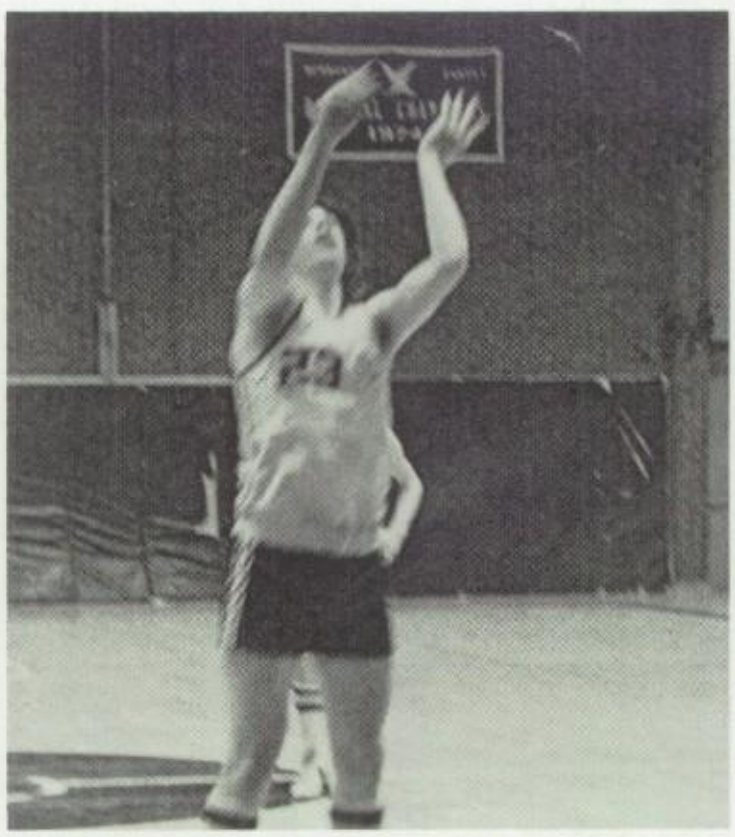


A new means of transportation.

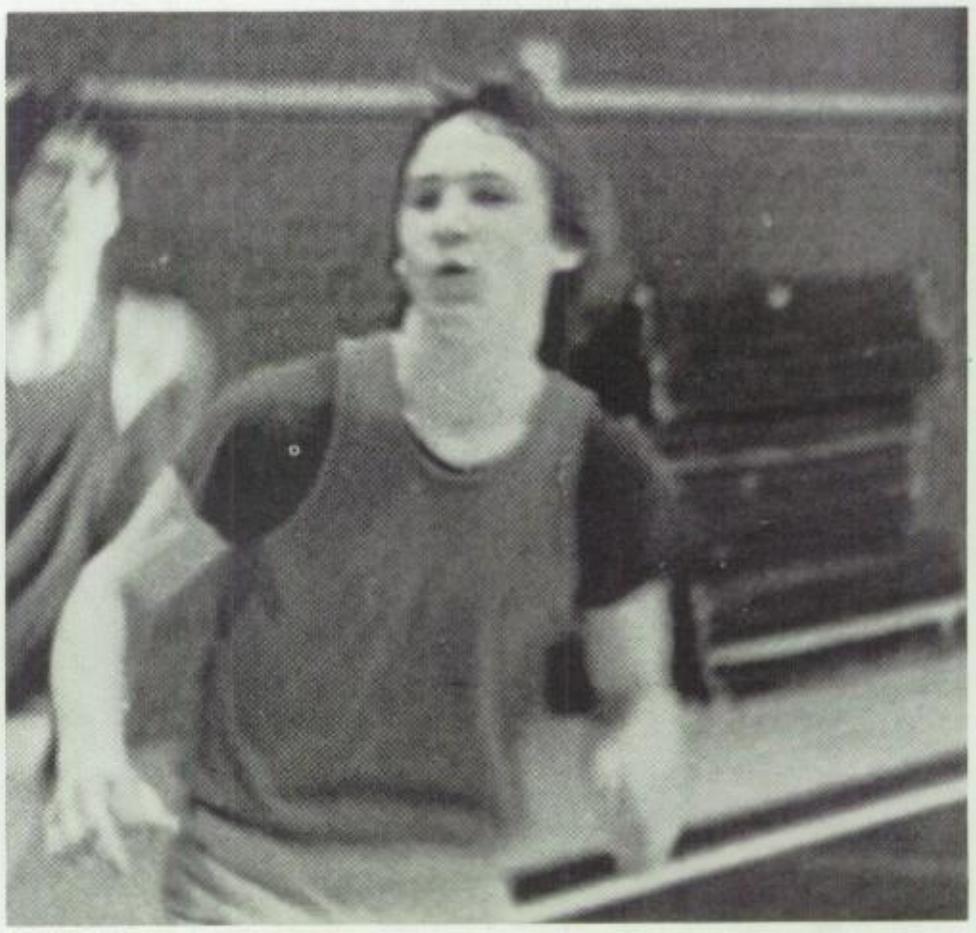
Another loving face.



Patty cake, patty cake.



What goes up must come down, or so they say!



Vaughn, we respect you!

One potato, two potatoes . . .

Candid Camera? No kidding!!

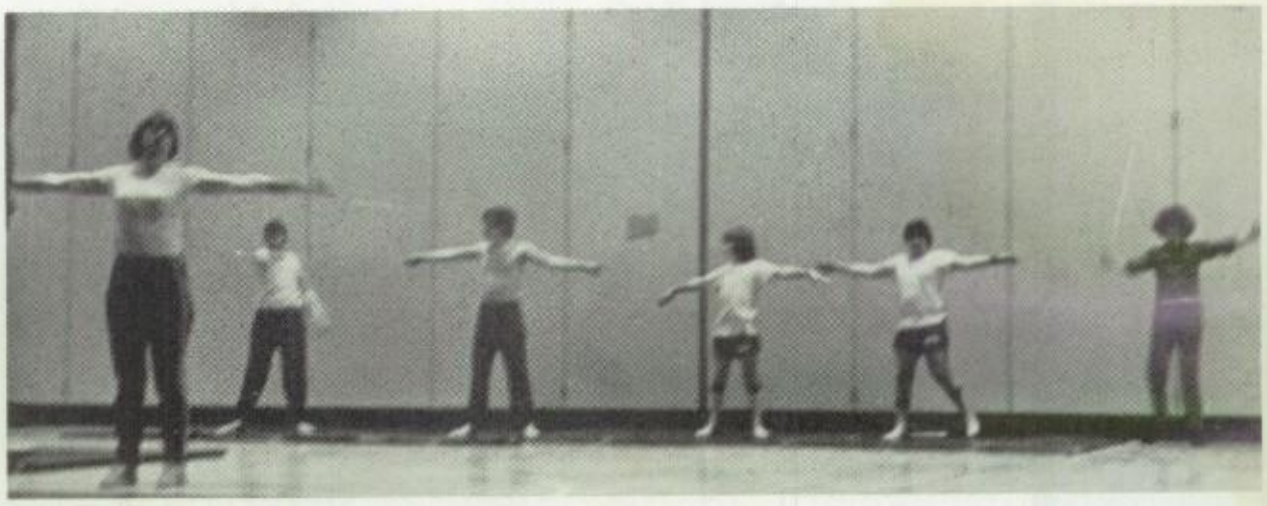
I want to fly like an eagle!

Right down the middle.

"Who says I'm not dashing and debonair?"

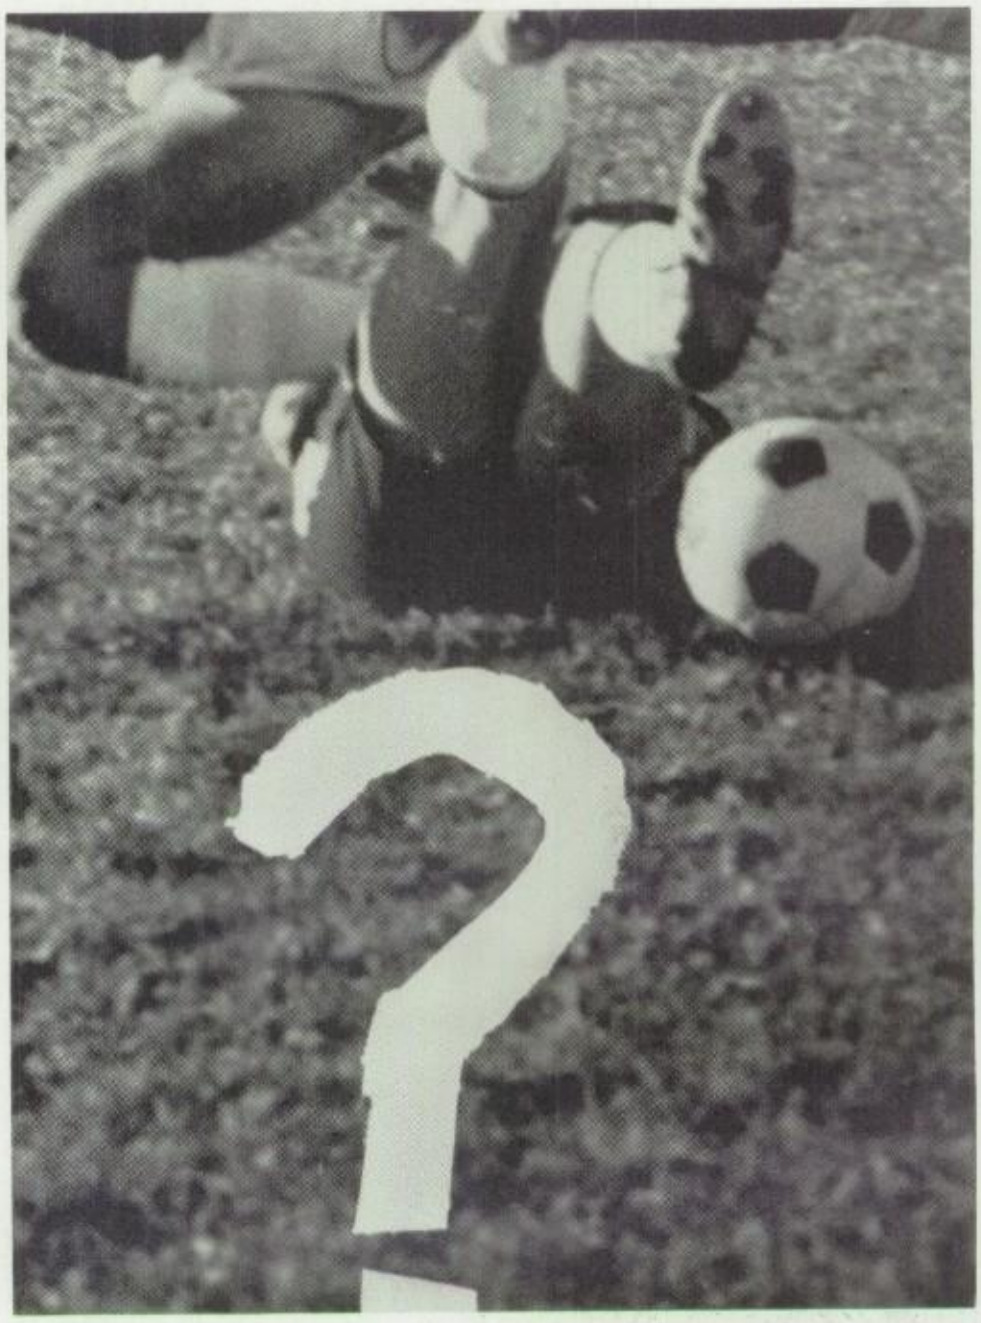
I told you he could do it!

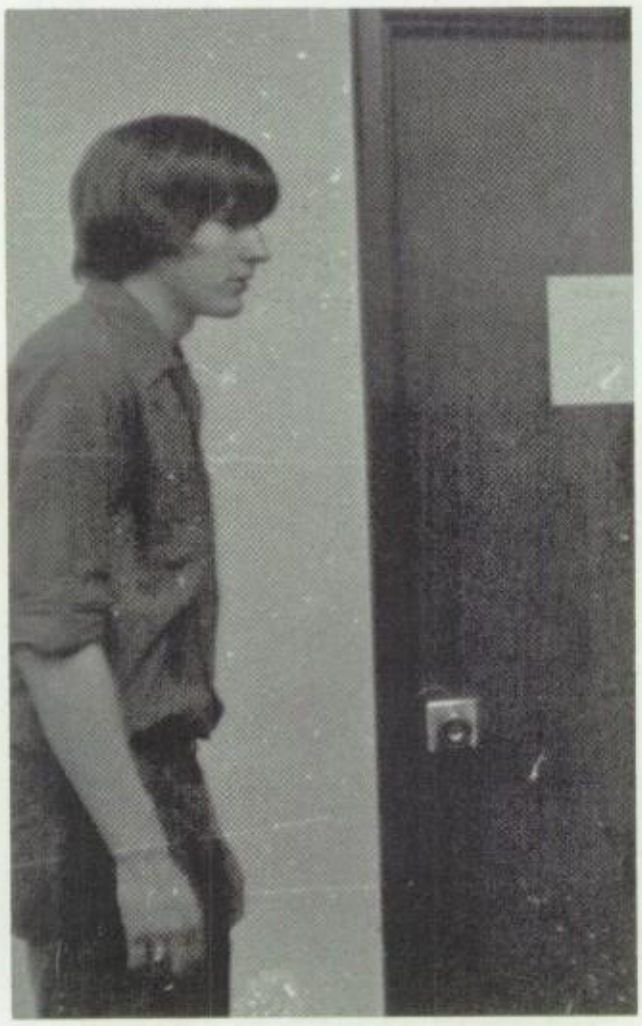
Watch out!



Our very own future ballet stars.

Ah-one-ah, ah-two-ah! Wonerful! Wonerful!





Who knows what lurks beyond the Door!

Five more minutes! Oh, no!

Editor's Note

Each year the editor and the yearbook staff try to create an unique yearbook that they can be proud of. At this time I would like to thank all the people who helped make this book possible. First, I would like to thank the Taylor Publishing Company for printing our yearbook, and our professional photographer, Mrs. Rother, for spending some of her time and talent taking pictures for us. I also would like to thank our own student photographers, under the capable leadership of photography editor, Tiana Wendland, and her assistant, Joffre Campbell, for the time and energy they expended getting us the pictures we needed. Our art editor, Jeanne Acker, her assistant, Belinda Nye, and their staff, Sally Stetson and Sue Heeter, were responsible for the yearbook cover, division pages and the class song page. Their artistic ability made our book more personal.

We wouldn't have had a yearbook if we hadn't had the money, so thanks must go to our business manager, Butch Hier, and his assistant, Mary Bird, for finding this money. Thanks also must go to the patrons and businesses who sponsored us.

After we had the pictures and ads, we needed people to help lay out the pages. Thanks go to the layout editor, Lisa Goodyear, and her assistant, Linda Fauteux, and their staff, Jean and Joan Smith, Sally Hatstat, Sally Williams, Cathy Burke, Lauren Diette and Sara Wood, who spent many a Monday night assembling this book. Also thanks must go to Kathy Audy, Lisa Sumner, and Jean Smith for typing the information for the pages.

Thanks must also go to the custodians who opened the doors for us during our meetings.

Without Mrs. Brennan I don't know how we would have managed. Mrs. Brennan, thank you for all the time and effort you expended on this book.

I would like to thank my assistant editor, Peggy Parks, for her help, and I wish her the best of luck with the yearbook next year.

To anyone I forgot to thank, I'm sorry . . . and thank you.

Good luck next year!
